Zagreb – Zadar 3rd – 6th November 2015.

Zagreb and Zadar, 25th March 2015

CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear colleagues,

on the 100th anniversary of the birth of Mate SUIĆ (Postire on the island of Brač, 3rd November 1915), a tireless researcher, museum director, university professor and academician, we are launching a scientific gathering in his honour and memory under the title

ANTIQUITATIS SOLLEMNIA
ANTIDORON MATE SUIĆ.

The first international conference under this title will be held from the 3rd to the 6th of November 2015 in Zagreb and Zadar, with the main theme of settlement history, especially history of the city.

The interdisciplinary scholarly work of Mate Suić, extending from prehistory to the middle ages, improved Croatian historical sciences of the 20th century with numerous and diverse contributions.

The most active and the most vivid part of his scientific legacy relates to the history of the city in antiquity, and was largely based on the example of Iader - Zadar and Suić's own research in that city. Therefore this topic is in the forefront of the gathering, which will, we hope, become a regular triennial event.

Papers on the other topics in the many areas of his research are also welcome. His own work has been repeatedly described and evaluated, and therefore primarily new contributions are expected.

We cordially invite you to participate in the conference!
